Dear Neighbor,

Although it has been approximately 6-weeks since Governor Newsom issued the 'Safer at Home' order, we are seeing great progress in Riverside County. We have successfully prevented a surge in coronavirus patients within our county-wide hospital system and we are leading the state in COVID-19 testing with over 50,000 tests conducted. That number will continue to increase as more testing sites ramp up (see testing locations listed below). The local Public Health Officer orders issued last month have significantly slowed the spread of the disease within Riverside County as noted by the lengthening of our doubling rate of the disease to more than 14 days. This is great news for all of us!

I can assure you we are working diligently to re-open "non-essential" businesses in Riverside County as soon as possible. To that end, Chairman of the Board V. Manuel Perez and I have added an item to the May 5th Board of Supervisors agenda to direct the Director of Emergency Services and Public Health Officer to rescind the Public Health Orders. In addition, Supervisor Perez and I are proposing the creation of the COVID-19 Business Assistance Program in the total amount of $1,000,000. If approved, the proposed loan program will provide funding for small businesses within the county in amounts between $15,000 and $30,000 with payment terms of five years. The details of these important proposals may be found in the May 5th agenda packet. These steps will help create a pathway to economic recovery for our citizens and business community alike.

I support our local economies as well as the health and safety of our citizens but I encourage everyone to continue using everyday preventative actions to help continue our success in preventing the spread of this virus. I sincerely thank the citizens of Riverside County for your patience in working with us to mitigate the spread of the virus. I also want to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to our health care professionals, first responders and all essential workers on the front lines of combating COVID-19. We are in this together!

As we get through this together, we will continue to add additional resources to this newsletter to help our constituents obtain all the information they are looking for in one location. Below is your reference guide to ALL THINGS COVID-19 related in Riverside County.

COVID-19 and Pets: What You Need to Know

Information as of: 4-15-2020

What is COVID-19?

This is a newly identified virus in the corona virus group. It is closely related to a couple of other corona virus outbreaks we have seen recently; namely SARS and MERS. COVID-19 is more distantly related to the other corona viruses most familiar to pet owners. Those are the virus which causes Feline Infectious Peritonitis (FIP) and the Canine Coronavirus (CCoV) which causes digestive tract disease in dogs.

Can pets be infected with corona virus?

Most recent research has identified COVID-19 infections in cats, ferrets and tigers at the Bronx Zoo. At this time, it is not thought that infected cats are a significant risk factor for human disease while the tigers at the zoo appear to have been infected from a pre-symptomatic caretaker. Dogs have not been identified as infected or carriers of the virus. It is very early in the disease cycle and more research is needed to understand this virus.

Can people become infected from dogs and cats?

At this time there is no evidence that dogs can transmit this disease to humans. Although cats can be infected the risk from house cats seems to be very low. It is possible that pets, as with door handles and other objects, can act as fomites and carry virus on their fur for short periods of time but the pet would need to have had very close contact with an infected person for this to occur. Person to person contact is the most significant way the virus is spread in society.

If my pet shows signs of illness, such as coughing, sneezing and fever should I have it tested?

Current expert understanding is that COVID-19 is primarily transmitted person-to-person. This supports a recommendation against testing of domestic animals, except by official order. If domestic animals, including dogs or cats, present with respiratory or gastrointestinal signs, veterinarians should test for the more common pathogens and conditions.

What about COVID-19 and bowel movements?

Experimental exposure to corona virus in cats has identified virus in feces but the data is limited at this time. Owners should use caution and wear gloves when cleaning the litterbox and avoid any direct contact with the litterbox contents. Remember you can be exposed to other pathogens, such as toxoplasmosis, when cleaning the box.

Can I give my dog a bath?

Generally speaking, yes. There is no reason to think that domestic animals, including pets, in the United States might be a source of infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19.

Can my dog play with other dogs?

If you are referring to dog parks and such... No, YOU are supposed to be staying home and keeping a safe, social distance from other people.

What should I do with my pet if I have been potentially exposed to this corona virus or have become ill with symptoms (fever, cough, shortness of breath)?

Let's look at the first situation. At this point there is no real concern for your pet, but you should consider wearing a face mask and avoiding direct contact with your pet. The same precautions you would have around other people. But, as a responsible pet owner, you should have a back-up plan for animal care should you become ill yourself, enough pet food and someone you can count on to provide care if you become too ill yourself.

In the event you become physically ill with COVID-19 symptoms, this is when your back-up plan takes effect. A trusted family member or friend should be called upon to render assistance. While avoiding direct contact with the pet for the first few days, this person should provide board and care for your pet. And remember however, that the probability of anyone contracting the virus from any pet is absolutely minimal.

SAFETY, RELIABILITY, AND COST SAVINGS FOR RESIDENTS OF MOBILE HOME COMMUNITIES

SoCalGas has received state approval for a ten-year Mobilehome Park Utility Conversion Program. The approval comes after a successful pilot program that provided natural gas system upgrades to 244 mobile home communities since 2014. Due to the positive impact the pilot program has had on thousands of mobile home residents, the CPUC voted to establish it as a ten-year, ongoing program. Through the program, SoCalGas is authorized to convert up to half of the approximately 132,000 mobile homes in its service territory to direct utility service through 2030.

Participating mobile home communities receive a new, professionally installed gas system that provides enhanced home safety and energy reliability for residents. As direct SoCalGas customers, residents can sign up for a variety of SoCalGas' energy savings and assistance programs that can help them save money.

Read more about details of the program.

KEEPING OUR COMMUNITIES AND FAMILIES SAFE IS EVERYONE'S JOB

April is "National Safe Digging" month. Check out this reminder from SoCalGas' Rodger Schwecke, senior vice president of gas operations and construction. Before beginning any projects that involve digging, make sure to contact 811 at least two days prior.

When residents or contractors contact 811, utility companies will mark the locations of their underground lines to prevent them from being damaged. Accidentally striking a buried utility line can cause injury, death, service outages or costly repair bills for homeowners. In fact, about 60 percent of all pipeline damage due to digging is caused by homeowners or contractors who do not call 811 before they dig.

AGREEMENT FILED WITH CPUC DETAILS NEW PROGRAM THAT WOULD GIVE CALIFORNIANS OPTIONS TO GET THEIR NATURAL GAS FROM RENEWABLE SOURCES

The proposed renewable natural gas program would allow millions of Californians the option to purchase a portion of their natural gas from renewable sources, just as many today can opt to purchase renewable electricity. The program is expected to create increased demand for renewable natural gas, which can help increase supply and lower its cost over time, similar to what has happened with renewable electricity created from wind and solar power.

With the agreement in place, the CPUC can begin its review and evaluation process; a decision could come in the fall of this year.

SOCALGAS CUSTOMERS MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR THE CARE PROGRAM

Customers who have recently become unemployed or are facing financial hardship may qualify for a 20% discount on their natural gas bill, through our CARE program or be eligible for one of our other assistance programs. For more information, please visit socialgas.com/Care or call 1-800-427-2200.
